

HOT-KEY MOUSE FOR THE SAME

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A hot-key mouse is to position several hot keys on both sides of a scroll wheel of the mouse, excepting remaining original design of the left and the right mouse buttons, the hot keys are positioned adjacent to the scroll wheel and between the left and the right mouse buttons without hindering the operations of the left and the right mouse buttons. Those hot keys are pre-defined by functions for either the 10 left or the right hand user to operate without changing another type of mouse. The invention enables the hot-key mouse to be commonly used by either the left or the right hand user, in addition, to reduce the manufacturing cost.
